

To Whom It May Concern:

I support strong Net Neutrality provisions. Internet services are a utility that should be under Title II oversight of Internet Service Providers. The free movement of data and information are vital and this should not be throttled by ISPs.

Sincerely,
Barbara Greene